

A Cleaner, Easier Way to Splint.

Releve is an inflatable vaginal splint for patients with Rectocele/POP who experience incomplete evacuation and voiding.

The soft, silicone balloon provides support to the vaginal walls during bowel movements to prevent bulges that trap stool and urine.

The result is easier, more complete bowel movements and voiding with less straining.

What Patients Love About Releve

- Prevents stool and urine from becoming trapped, reducing straining and frequent trips to the toilet.
- The silicone balloon provides 360° support, eliminating the need to search for or reposition bulging tissue during bowel movements.
- Allows patients to relax during use, essential for successful bowel movements.
- The deflated balloon is tampon-sized, making insertion and removal easy.

What is Included in the Box

- 1 each Releve Vaginal Splint
- 1 each Plastic Balloon Guard
- 1 each Carrying Bag
- 1 each Instructions for Use

Releve® was developed by a colorectal surgeon as a first-line treatment for patients with low-grade prolapse.

How Releve Works:

- The uninflated balloon is inserted into the vagina prior to a bowel movement or voiding.
- A squeeze bulb allows patients to inflate the balloon to the desired size.
- The inflated balloon provides mild, pressurized support to the weakened vaginal walls to prevent the formation of rectocele and/or cystocele.
- The handle allows patients to hold the balloon in place during a bowel movement or voiding.
- Once complete, the device is deflated by pressing the air release button, then removed and cleaned for next use.
- Releve is latex-free.

"I honestly don't know how I would live without it. I have tried other splinting devices, but they don't work for me. The fact that Releve forms to the shape of my particular body has made it much more effective than anything else."

- Beth, Los Angeles, CA

"I'm finally able to relax and go. Thank you!!"

- Courtney, Tempe, AZ

"I feel safer knowing it's designed specifically for splinting." - Barbara, Seattle, WA
